

CF800PROG

Eaton's addressable device programmer

The addressable device programmer (CF800PROG) is a versatile tool to aid the installation, commissioning, maintenance and servicing of current intelligent addressable devices and fire systems.

This unit is light, robust and easy to operate using a user friendly menu structure on 2 x 40 character LCD display. It is powered from a single PP3 size, heavy duty battery or an external supply.

This addressable device programmer has a built in addressable base as well as two external terminals for use with all other current addressable ancillary devices.

Features

- Reads addresses
- Writes addresses
- Reads analogue values
- Tests devices
- Deletes addresses
- Programmes the 3 heat settings

Benefits

- Simple re-programming of devices
- Portable no power supply required
- Suitable for use with current range of devices

Catalogue numbers

Description	Code
Addressable Device Programmer	CF800PROG